How to copy campaigns between environments

Copy campaigns between siteids from the developer siteid to the production siteid.

To do duplicate a campaign on another siteid, set a new location as the destination of the duplicate campaign.

Modals

Once you copy a modal campaign, such as an announcement, or survey, edit the campaign so that it displays on the correct page of your new siteid.

Guided Tours

Once you copy a guided tour campaign, edit the entire guided tour in the Tour Step Wizard of the page it should display on. If the elements between your development site and your production site vary, your guided tour will break. So, it is important to verify that the each tour step is pointing to the correct element in your production site.
